

THE power YEARS™
PROMISE

I _____ am not done. Not nearly.
I have as much possibility in front of me as I have experience behind me.
That's what gives me so much power. Today, I accept responsibility for being the chooser in my own life. I am a leader, and I will not disappear or accept invisibility. I give myself permission to dream and challenge myself to see past what I've always believed to be true. I permit myself to stay in the sacred mystery of not knowing what is next, and I am open to learning new things and being curious. I am ready. These are my Power Years™.
